Hi Liz,

I have a location map for the Dewey-Burdock proposed site in the southern Black Hills Region. There are other uranium ISR sites in WY but I don't know if they occur in the Black Hills area. I will see if I can find a map from the NRC website.

Do you have a deadline for this info? It might take me a couple of day to complete the search because I need to provide a bunch of info to our court reporter to complete transcripts from our hearings last week.

Hi Valois,

Hope all is well. Quick question- do you have a list or map of current in-situ recovery operations in the Black Hills area of South Dakota? Do you also know if they are all for uranium recovery or are other materials recovered in this manner as well?

Thanks much,
Liz
